@zoe934 just take the latest ROM listed in your linked thread and flash it and you'll be good to go 😆
Once macOS is installed you'll need to customise your setup according to your needs at least I strongly recommend to change the smbios since all roms use the same defaults and as they do they all share the same smbios, serial and so on. You'll also need to add drivers for Sound and networking since we do not include them to stay as universal as possible.
