al6042 I have seen you are not of aware of 2 things tinu does by design:

- 1) formats the usb drive accordingly to what is needed to make sure that the inteller will have guid and an efi partition
- 2) tinu has it's efi partition tool built in since version 2.1 which is very handy to not have to use other tools

Mirow302 Be aware of the fact that efi partitions are always completely invisible to the user unless you use a tool made on purpose to show, mount and unmount them
