Ozmosis mit macOS Catalina 10.15 - OZ167X-XMAX (extended)

Glad to hear! I'm sorry that I couldn't find the time to attach Applebootpolicy.ffs for you but it's even better when you figured it out yourself. You can actually extract it from original Apple iMac Firmwares.

I'm glad that everything works fine now. I am aware that Ozmosis is far from perfect at this stage since there has not been any development whatsoever in the last years and there will also be no more real development in the future. The only reason for patching and keeping on using Ozmosis ever was, to not have to use Clover and to kill time until the announced successor "Open Core" of Ozmosis appears - which it now has. Thus most reasons for investing more time into the Oz project or into Oz patching are gone now.

Apart from that which imperfections did you experience? Let's see if there are any known fixes available.
