First of all, what the heck are you doing? Stop formatting your text with code!

Second, I start to get pissed. I am trying to get this issue resolved. First user doesn't respond to my private message and instead is posting some nonsense workaround. Now you claim you already tried the config on the link I just sent you.

I just replaced it with an updated version, so no, you did not try it. I am not sending links for fun here. 😊

Delete everything in `/EFI/CLOVER/` except for the bootloader (`CLOVERX64.efi`) and then paste contents of the new package inside of there.
