Statt kexts gibt es wohl in Zukunft System Extensions.

Jedenfalls gibt es dazu in der Apple Developer App einen passenden Eintrag (unter Events->WWDC20 relativ weit unten):

Zitat

Move from kexts to system extensions

System Extensions improve the reliability and security of macOS, and deprecated kernel extensions will not load by default in macOS Big Sur. Find out how to create modern device drivers for SCSI controllers, PCI, USB, and more. And discover tips for making a great security product with the Endpoint Security framework.
