

iMac 2020 vs 2021

I would wait for a M1 Version, maybe already with a M1x processor with more Power than the current M1. This is the future of Apple and me would no more buy an Apple Intel System.

And for Windows I would have a dedicated Windows device, as nobody knows what will happen with bootcamp and how they will realize Windows on the M1. Will the bootcamp allow you the Installation of the ARM Windows (which Microsoft sells not officially?) Will it be an emulated X64 Windows?

To much open questions there.
