

Geleakte interne Apple Training Video zeigen, wie der Konzern versucht, 3rd Party Reparaturen zu untergraben.

Beitrag von „5T33Z0“ vom 3. November 2021, 14:05

Herrlich. Business as usual – und jetzt auch dokumentiert.

Zitat

"As someone who works as an Apple Authorized repair technician, I see on a daily basis how many devices the manufacturer claims are unrepairable but that third party repair shops have shown time and again that they can solve, letting people recover precious documents and memories that, because of manufacturer restrictions, I am not allowed to help with," an AASP told Motherboard on the condition we keep them anonymous because they fear retaliation from Apple.

<https://www.vice.com/en/article/rmines-third-party-repair>