Future

I have personally been using this Hackintosh as a daily driver for the past two years. The list of remaining todos is small and likely won't ever be fixed (by me) because of either difficulty or lack of interest:

- Find a proper fix for the flickering display issue
- Find a workaround of the USB storage reset on wake issue
- Get external microphone on headsets working
- Fix DRM issues with Netflix, Apple TV*, etc
- Fan and LED controls

Aside from that, just about everything is working as you might expect from a Mac. Future updates likely will only involve driver updates from Acidanthera and OpenIntelWireless, especially as new macOS releases will inevitably break things. There is also a final sunset for Intel macOS, which, if going by the PowerPC transition, would be around 2025.
