mhaeuser I have no technical skill to say you are wrong in absolute..but, I in my system I have always installed web driver from Mojave to first Monterey beta (I have had a TitanXp and then I have "won" a reference 6900Xt from AMD site

my only problem was in BigSur initially with seal /snapshot problem.. but, updating from a previous system was pretty simple to use it for correct monitor resolution

If I will find my old post on macos86.it I will post ps Thank you always for a working memory manager for AMD user 😊😊
