Nvidia Web Drivers running on macOS Monterey!

hello DF compared to the photo posted on reddit of a 1050 TI i do not see major differences

I can't find the late 2019 posts where I put the driver on unsupported systems so I can't show you the OSX dock

I would be interested in seeing a R15 cinebench GPU test, which I remember for sure not working However if you tell me that this method is a new thing .. I believe you!

edit:

and to be even clearer, I quote a part of my initial message:

I have always installed the drivers when I had the Nvidia Titan XP and the support I got was for full resolution in multimonitor (even with 4 monitors connected), but no hardware acceleration as neither metal nor cuda were available ...

if something has changed in the last part in bold ... yes that is an interesting improvement.
