Hast du mal die Bios-Einstellungen kontrolliert?

Da ich einen Dell-Laptop habe kann ich dir meine Einstellungen mitteilen:

System Configuration

1. SATA Operation (AHCI) (will break Windows boot)
2. Drives (all on)
3. SMART Reporting (on)
4. USB Configuration (all on)
5. Dell Type-C Dock Configuration (on)
6. Thunderbolt Adapter Configuration (all on, no security)
7. USB PowerShare (on)
8. Audio (all on)
9. Keyboard Illumination (whatever; this gets overridden by the F10 key)
10. Touchscreen (on)
11. Miscellaneous Devices (all on except SD Card Read-Only Mode)

Security

1. CPU XD (on)

Secure Boot

1. Secure Boot Enable (disabled)

Intel Software Guard Extensions

1. Intel SGX Enable (Software-Controlled)

Performance

1. (Everything on/enabled)

Power Management

1. USB Wake Support
  - a. USB Wake Support = off
  - b. Wake on Dell USB-C Dock = on
2. Wake on WLAN (off)
3. Block Sleep (off)

Virtualization Support

1. Everything on
