Enaske if all goes well yes

I permit myself to suggest you to try to install also with your 3080 GPU to see if all is fine in your rig, you should have Big Sur installed without any graphics acceleration (VESA mode)

then you can swap your GPU with a supported one Motherboard Bios could be also in your default settings and then:

CSM OFF/Uefi On

4G on or npci=0x2000 as boot arg if your motherboard need of this boot arg

if you don't give up fastly..you will have your system alive and kicking 😊
