Hello fabiosun, Thank you very much for your help. The updated Efi from you works perfectly and will make my everyday life in connection with my visual impairment a lot easier and gives me more independence. This is absolutely great for me.

I would really like to understand the process of how to create/update an EFI like this, since I would really like to learn doing this myself. Would you share with me where I can find the necessary information? For instance, which entries in the configuration must be adjusted for a given system and how do I know which kext data I need for which system? Is there a source where I could find these kinds of information?

I would also like to know which programs you used exactly.

I have already installed the plist editor pro.

Again, thanks for your help. It means a lot to me.
