

Der Mauszeiger (USB) bewegt sich ruckelnd

Ram might just be the culprit. 8Gb were good enough for Leopard but Sonoma is a different story. Maybe there's a cheap way of giving it a shot with 16gb buried somewhere in a drawer?

I will try to use another module. But I only have Ventura. And unfortunately I don't have a table where 16 GB can be hidden.

There is no such problem in Windows.
