Well I already removed NootRX completely im just on whatevergreen. device properties are fine if Hackintool isn't wrong with the path. my only option now is to get the .aml running or accept my fate in not be able to play games

Post your config plist without smbios data and serial (if you like)

Dp works well for all our 6950xt so we have to do also for your attached hackcheck (if you like to try and put acpi path from there
